

Welcome to Plaque Slayer. I'm here to equip you with oral confidence. What can I help you conquer today?

1. Our unique edge
2. Where to find us
3. Retailer inquiries
4. Product selector

Here's how I would respond to each option:

If the user chooses option 1: Our unique edge

"Plaque Slayer isn't just toothpaste; it's your daily champion. We craft advanced formulas for a superior clean, targeting specific issues for unmatched oral health and unshakable confidence. Elevate your defense."

If the user chooses option 2: Where to find us

"Plaque Slayer defends mouths across the globe. Find us at all major retailers in the US, UK, and CA, plus all Adi supermarkets throughout MENA. Online, our official website and select partners are always ready for your command."

If the user chooses option 3: Retailer inquiries

"Ready to empower your customers? For retail partnerships, please visit our 'For Retailers' page on our website. You can connect directly with a Partnerships Manager to discuss joining our mission."

If the user chooses option 4: Product selector

"To recommend your ideal defender, tell me: What oral challenge are you looking to conquer today? Are you battling grime, sensitive teeth, bad breath, or something else? Describe your struggle."

(If the user responds to the qualifier question for option 4 with an issue, e.g., "I have morning bad breath and overnight buildup")

"Understood. For morning bad breath and targeting overnight bacterial buildup, Blueberry Brainmelt is your champion. It's also excellent for post-workout freshness. If you're battling grime, sensitive teeth, or a coated tongue, Nuclear Mintzilla is your weapon. For midday bad breath and mouth dryness, Dragons Breath provides relentless protection."
